

Born in 1988 in Tirana (Albania)

Lives and works between Tirana and Berlin

Bora Baboci (Tirana, Albania, 1988) studied architectural design and criticism at the University of Toronto, Universidad Torcuato Di Tella in Buenos Aires and has a master's degree in the same field at the Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya. Inspired by popular culture, urban informality and folklore, parallel to her studies she practiced the visual and performative arts. Starting from 2015 she worked as researcher and academic assistant at the Technischen Universität - Berlin, focusing on experimental housing and public typologies within the context of global migration. During 2017 she has attended a series of residencies and has been working towards a more independent and experimental practice.